Students who wish to fulfill the additional 10 hours to complete the 40-hour CDP, may attend the weekend OBE Immersion workshop in person at an IAC office.

  The OBE immersion is an optional weekend-long, practical workshop where students will apply the OBE and energetic exercises learned during the eCDP at a local IAC office. Students from out of town, who need help finding a nearby hotel to attend the OBE immersion can contact the IAC office at Florida@iacworld.org or 305-668-4668 for help.

About the IAC Research Campus

Invitation to Visit the IAC Research Campus
The Research Campus is IAC’s most significant installation. It is nestled among 98,000 m2 (25 acres) of cork and oak tree groves near the town of Évoramonte, in the beautiful Alentejo region of Portugal. The center is a hub for those conducting consciousness research using traditional and multidimensional approaches, whether formal researchers or the general public.

The campus is located at: Herdade da Marmeleira EN 18, km. 236 – Cx. Postal 06; Evoramonte, Estremoz; 7100-500; Portugal; 38° 47’ 37.8996” N, 7° 41’ 11.1012” W

Homeostatic Field Course (IAC Campus)

Transformative Energetic Field Course at the IAC Campus
The course is an energetic immersion with the primary focus of strengthening the connection between the student’s energetic and mental bodies. The entire process of the Homeostatic Field course is supervised and maintained by the helpers, primarily through the energies of the epicenter. Immanent (natural) energies also contribute, and the Campus’ rich abundance of pristine, natural energies aids significantly with this process. This course was created to provide support in the existential programs (life missions) of a greater number of people and is associated with moments of profound change and individual and group recycling.

Pre-requisite: None
Location: IAC Campus in Evoramonte, Portugal
Dates: Friday, November 21st through Sunday, November 23rd
Price: €479 (approx. $650) Price does not include room and board.

1st International Congress of Conscientiology (IAC Campus)

Don’t miss this event! A Seminal Scientific Congress at the IAC Campus
This congress is dedicated to addressing those research fields that, directly or indirectly, enlighten the different aspects of the nature of the consciousness, free from the many reductionist biases that are still present in the predominant scientific view. Speakers, researchers, and participants with a multidisciplinary background will attend from numerous countries, each enriching the proceedings and debates during the event.

The Congress will bring together both scholars and lay people with a shared interest in the continuous refining of a more advanced scientific approach that acknowledges the existence of non-physical realities and is appropriate for the exploration – in subjective, inter-subjective and objective modalities – of the multidimensional aspects of the consciousness and related phenomena.

Location: IAC Campus in Evoramonte, Portugal
Dates: Friday, May 22 through Sunday, May 24, 2015
Price: Prices vary based on date of registration and IAC Membership.
